

L'Outil Parfait supports its distributors and helps them benefit from the digital shift by supplying product data in the Fab-Dis format (database file in standardised Excel format for exchange of data between FABricants (manufacturers) and DIStributor).

Readily usable, it just needs adding to its own database, or it can be imported directly into its design software.

L'Outil Parfait is committed to providing its distributors with reliable content that is regularly updated and has an open library of artwork displayed as such on targeted media (PDF, website...).
